The first witness examined was Ebenezer Baldwin, of Lawrence. He testified fo sequaintance with Mr. Walkup: that the inter was a large, powerfully built man, over six feet high, broad shouldered and of cheerful disposition. He and Mr. Walkup went to the New Orleans Exposition last December and lodged at Mrs. Wallace's house and became sequainted with the family, including the defendant.

Miss Lizzie Walkup, dauchter of J. R. Walkup, testified that she went to Colorado five days after her father returned home with his new wife; that she returned on the 18th of August, and next day could not find her sister's mantle and her own plush cloak and jersey wrap: that she accused Isth of August, and next day could not find her sister's mantle and her own plush cloak and jersey wrap; that she accused Mrs. Walkup of sending them away in a box; Mrs. Walkup of sending them away in a box; Mrs. Walkup had the box brought from the express office to the house and asked Lizzle to see it opened. Lizzle did not respond at once, and when she did the box was open and only a sheet and cup and snucer were in it. A few hours afterward Mrs. Walkup told her the servant girl, Mary Mos, had found the wraps in a closet; they were then on her (Lizzle's) bed. She accused Mrs. Walkup for sending her mother a silk dress; Mrs. Walkup denied this.

L. W. Carter testified that Mrs. Walkup told him that previous to marriage she thought Walkup well off, but after his feath she discovered all his property was mortgaged. George W. Nexman testified as to goods sold defendant on her husband's account. Dr. Mort testified to examining a powder deceased had, which was quinine. His clerk testified to examining the same powder at the request of the defendant. It was quinine. Several drugists were put on the stand and testified that defendant applied at their drug stores for arsenic and strychnine, representing that she wanted it for a preparation. Dr. Jacobs testified to Walkup's illness and death, and Court adjourned.

Fourth Day.

EMPORIA, KAN., October 23.—The Walkp trial opened yesterday with John

Thacher, member of the City Council, as the first witness. He testified to meeting Mr. Walkup on the Saturday and Monday previous to his death, and that he seemed to be in good health. He presided at the Council Monday evening.

Dr. Jacobe then: took the witness chair and gave a detailed description of his treatment of Mr. Walkup during the latter's-litness. His testimony agreed almost exactly with that which he gave at the corener's inquest. He attributed the complaint to acute indigestion, aggravated by esting strychnine in vinegar and drinking pop on Thursday, until after he had been informed by Mr. Bill Friday, going to show that strychnine in vinegar and drinking pop on Thursday, until after he had been informed by Mr. Bill Friday, going to show that Mrs. Walkup had been buying arsenie. He thus concluded that arsenical poisoning was the cause of the sickness, and this impression was conlined by the increasing severity of the previous symptoms. He did not treat specifically for arsenical poisoning. He administered an antidote. He described the post-mortem examination as showing arsenical poisoning and said, in his judgment, such poisoning was the cause of death. His testimony was very carefully given and was not concluded at noon when the court adjourned. His description of arsenical poison explained that matter clearly, and his testimony was listened to with profound interest.

The afternoon session opened with a continuation by Mr. Scott, of the cross-examination of Dr. Jacoba. The doctor gave a detailed explanation of his reasons for considering until Friday that Walkup's condition was an acute attack of indigestion. The impossibility of always making a correct diagnosis was explained. In explanation of his reason for thinking Mr. Walkup was poisoned affect Mr. Bill had spoken to him, the doctor said: "It may not be possible for a physician to diagnosticate the condition of a patient by the symptoms of the patient at any one time, but by the development of those symptoms and the circumstances under which they exist."

The doctor went on to give an illustration by relating several cases to substantiate this statement of these symptoms and the circumstances under which they exist."

The doctor went on to give an illustration by relating several cases to substantiate this statement of the case and full explanation of arsenical poison. Nothing in Walkup's case, he said, was lacking to confirm the theory of arsenical poison, and it would be absolutely impossible for any doctor under the circumstances to make a diagnosis of the case. Upon cross-examination Dr. Jacobs testified that a good many other substances than arsenic or its continuou

Dr. Gardner, chemist, testified as to the condition of Walkup's stomach and vital organs. Their condition indicated arsenical poison. Pending the examination of this witness, the Court adjourned.

Fifth Day. EMPORIA, KAN., October 24.-Dr. Gard-ENFORMA, RAN., October 34.—Dr. URLU-ner resumed his testimony yesterday morn-ing and was cross-examined by Mr. Scott in regard to the actions of syphilitic affections upon the system as compared with the ap-pearances exhibited by the stomach, liver pearances exhibited by the stomach, liver and other viscera of Mr. Walkup. The witness testified that syphilitic affections could not, in his opinion, have produced the appearances. No examination in regard to syphilitic causes or results was made by any one except himself. He did not discover evidences of syphilis. He conceded that medical practice called in cases of arsenical poisoning for the administration of autilotes, and that had he been attending Mr. Walkup he would have administered an antidote on Friday had he concluded arsenical poisoning was the tamble.

concluded arsenical poisoning was the tamble.

The next witness was Dr. Harrison, who testified to taking the viscera, delivered to him by Coroner Frost to Kansas City, and there delivering the package in good order to Prof. Jones, of the Kansas City Medical College, for analysis. Prof. Jones was next called and entered upon a detailed scientific description of the process by which he analyzed the remains delivered to him by Dr. Harrison. He then related that as the result of his analysis he found arsenic as follows: In the contents of the stomach, 2:29-1000 grains; in the stomach itself, 37-1000 grains; in the four ounces of blood, 12-1000 grains; in the four ounces of blood, 12-1000 grains; in the liver, 37-1000 grains; a total of 2-498-1000 grains.

Prof. Jones finished his testimony by exhibiting to the jury crystalized arsenic under a microscope. His cross-examination was lengthy.

Dr. Frost testified that he received from Dr. Gaddner and gave to Dr. Harrison the package represented to contain the viscera of J. R. Waikup, to be taken to Kansas City for analyzation. The main part of the afternoon was occupied by the reading of a series of hypothetical questions in turn to Drs. Garniner, Jacobs, Page and Frost and with their respective answers and brief cross-examination.

The questions were answered at length, and the central adjourners.

SAVED BY A BUTTON.

The Danish Premier Shot at-His Life Saved by a Locky Button. COPENHAGEN, October 22.—A desperate attempt was made at five o'clock yesterday by a youth named Rasmussen, a comport itor. Rasmussen fired two shots from a re-volver at the Premier. When in the act of firing a third shot, the would-be assessing was seized by a couple of detectives, a number of whom have constantly been in attendance on the Premier for some time owing to the extreme hatred of the populace toward him and the other members of the Caimet. Resnussen was hurriedly taken to prison, the officials fearing that an attempt at a rescue would be made. The first shot struck a button on Herr Estrapp's coat and glanced off. The second shot went wide of the mark. Rasmussen declares that his motives were positical, as Herr Estrapp's conduct in the present political controversy in Denmark is inimical to the state.
